St. Ignatius' Becomes Parish Church With Fr. Ehrhott as Priest

Is United With Convention After Thirty-five Years A Mission

St. Ignatius became a parish church Tuesday, May 8 during the 114 annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago held at St. James' church, Chicago.

The action came on resolution of the convention and changed the local church from the status of a mission church which it has held for 35 years. It reflected the progress made in the past year and one-half during which time 43 were confirmed, church attendance increased 50 percent, the church school was increased from 50 to 70 pupils, and the parish budget increased 60 percent.

The Bishop of Chicago will confirm a class of 14 persons on May 24 at 8 p. m. at St. Ignatius, and will institute the Rev. Robert E. Ehrhott as priest and rector of the parish.

McDonald, Chairman of the Sewing and Home Furnishing Committee personally supervised the redecorating. Mrs. N. W. Cook and Mrs. C. D. Boak, members of the committee, found good angels in Mesdames John L. Druhan, Grant Annabel, G. F. Hayes and W. A. Brewerton who made the curtains and drapes.

One of the features of interest will be a tour of the hospital. Members of the Junior Service Group will act as guides and will conduct the guests through the building.

The Antioch fire department will hold its annual dance Saturday evening at the Nash Sales building on Depot street.

The location of the dance was changed this week from the Codding building when it was learned that the new structure at Rtes. 173 and 59 was not near enough completed.

Art Smejkal's orchestra will furnish the music and dancing will start at 8:30 p. m.

This is an event to which the public is invited, the firemen say. Admission is free and profits will be only from the concessions.

Vandals Slashed Tires On Cars of Four Antioch Residents Last Friday

Vandals, believed to be boys living north of Antioch, damaged or destroyed tires on the automobiles of four local residents last Friday night.

A knife was used in slashing tires on the cars of Wendell Nelson, at his home 704 Main St.; Robert Lindblad, Antioch, a guest at the time at the Nelson home; Dr. Richard Ripley, veterinarian, 795 Main St.; and Delbert Druce, residing north of the Soo Line track on Rte. 21.

Two of the Druce cars were damaged, one tire in one car having eight holes, while two tires on another car were cut. Only one tire on each of Lindblad's, Nelson's and Ripley's cars was cut.

The damage was believed to have been done before 11 p. m. because a roomer at the Druce residence arrived home about that time and his car was not damaged. He did not notice whether the others were damaged then.

Police Chief Walter I. Scott is working on the case. He made no comment as to persons suspected but said that prosecution will take place when the persons are apprehended.

Channel Lake Woman Wins Grand Prize in Radio Song Contest

Mrs. Joe Chiuffo, Lake Ave., Channel Lake, is the winner of the grand prize in the recent Beatrice Kay show song line contest on WKRS and WKRS-FM, the radio station management announced today.

The presentation of the award watch, top prize in the contest was made to Mrs. Chiuffo in ceremonies at the WKRS studios.

Mrs. Chiuffo also will receive a specially recorded version of the song on which the contest was based "Mention My Name in Sheboygan." The special recording, as sung by Beatrice Kay, will use her winning song line which described Antioch as the town that is counted by square people, not square miles.

The winner is the mother of four children; the oldest 25 years, the youngest 7 months.

She and her husband have lived for the past three years at Channel lake, where during the summer they operate a sandwich shop and rent boats to vacationers.

In 1948, when they moved to Channel Lake from Chicago, they built and opened a restaurant. But the building had been standing hardly six months when fire burned it to the ground.

Mr. Chiuffo is an employee of the Deep Freeze division of Motor Products Corp., of North Chicago.

Mrs. Chiuffo wrote her winning song line entry one evening while waiting for her husband to return home from the late shift at the plant.

Herschel E. Short, 53, Chicago Hospital Aid Drowned in Lake Marie

Outboard Motor Boat Upsets While He Fished Near Forbich Point

Herschel E. Short, 53, an employee of the Dunning State hospital, 6400 Irving Park rd., Chicago, was drowned in Lake Marie yesterday afternoon when his boat capsized while he was fishing.

The body was recovered by the Antioch Rescue squad about 45 minutes after Short sank in 12 feet of water about 75 feet from shore west of Forbich's point.

Unidentified persons told Capt. Herman Holbeck and Everett Offedahl of the Rescue squad that they heard Short call for help but by the time they arrived at the shore a block distant, he could not be seen.

The spot where the Chicago man went down was marked by the prow of the row boat. The stern containing the outboard motor was mired. The rescue workers pulled the body up in the first grapple of the hooks.

Short had been coming to the Chain O' Lakes area on fishing trips for about 35 years and was known to many persons in the area. He is survived by his wife and several brothers and sisters residing in the southern part of the state.

The body was taken to the Strang funeral home and then taken to Chicago today.

Short escaped death in January 1948 when the plane in which he was riding crashed into the roof of the house of Mrs. Lettie Einfeldt at Lake Marie. The seaplane had just taken off and was 50 feet in the air when it suddenly dove into the Einfeldt house. The pilot Kenneth C. Thomas was of Elgin. Neither of the two men was hurt.

Saturday Designated as School Safety Patrol Day

Saturday, May 12 is School Safety Patrol Day.

The final day of Youth Week has been designated to honor the boys and girls who daily guard their classmates at street crossings near schools.

Mayors of Illinois and Indiana communities have proclaimed the day officially according to the Chicago Motor Club.

The patrol movement grew out of an effort to cut child traffic deaths in 1922. That year the toll of school children killed in traffic was 3,190 in the 5 to 14 year group. This group accounted for one-fifth of the nation's total toll of 15,300 in 1922.

"The death toll among school age children dropped sharply after the program became nationwide," says Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club. "In 1943 there were 1,949 deaths among school age children—a 37 percent reduction from the high of 1922. During the same years, other age groups increased 35 percent over 1922 to total 23,823 in 1943."

"In 1949, the last year for which age breakdowns are available, 2,100 children of school age were killed in traffic. There were 31,500 of all ages killed nationally that year. The school age group had about 6 percent of the deaths in 1949, compared to 20 percent in 1922. School safety patrols and school safety education had achieved the improvement."

"If other age groups improved their safety record as effectively as the school age children the national toll would also have been below 1922's."

"The national toll for 1949 would then have been 9,945 instead of 31,500."

The school age group protected by the school safety patrols are the only age group to have actually fewer deaths year by year than they had in 1922.

This was accomplished despite an increase in population from 120 million Americans in 1922 to 150 million; an increase from 55 billion in 1922 to 425 billion in 1949.

Antioch Nips Wauconda 9-7 for First Victory, Northbrook Here Friday

Antioch High broke into the games won column in baseball Monday by defeating Wauconda here 9 to 7. The game was changed from Wauconda here at the last minute.

Kenneth Rentner's four hits in five times at bat during which he drove in two runs on a triple and a double, and Jack Pregenzer's two hits that drove in three runs featured the Antioch playing.

Pregenzer held Wauconda at his mercy until the seventh inning when the score standing 9 to 1 in Antioch's favor Wauconda began a rally that threatened to become a victory.

With no one out and the tying run on base, Lubkeman replaced Pregenzer and put out the fire in quick order.

The battery for Wauconda was Nolan and Nolan.

Antioch made 9 runs, 10 hits and 3 errors, and Wauconda 7 runs, 7 hits and four errors.

Today Northbrook is playing here and on Monday Antioch will go to Crystal Lake to meet Grant in the sub-district elimination for the state title. Other teams playing there are Crystal Lake, Woodstock, and McHenry.

Track meets of Antioch High scheduled during the coming week are:

Freshman-Sophomore meet with Dundee, Palatine and Grant at Palatine Friday; Wilmet varsity and Antioch Varsity here Monday; and Wednesday the conference meet at Palatine.

Community to Vote Tuesday on Water District for County

Co-operative Organization Would Be Formed Through Law

Antioch and Lake Villa township voters will be privileged to vote for or against the creation of a Lake county public water district in a referendum Tuesday, May 15.

Voting in Antioch will be at the village hall and in Lake Villa at the village hall likewise.

The proposal is to organize a county water district in all territories with the exception of the Great Lakes Naval Training center, Fort Sheridan, and the cities of Waukegan, North Chicago, Lake Forest, Highland and Highland Park.

Voting for the water district does not compel the community or any individual to buy water, but makes possible its use in the future if desired.

There will be no taxation, it is said. The water will be obtained from the surpluses of the shore line city plants, and the mains will be paid for through revenue bonds.

If the district is approved, the county court will appoint five trustees and they will operate the district, deciding the cost of the water. Under the law the trustees can be paid as much as $300 a year.

Those promoting the district get nothing from the project other than seeing that communities in need of water are supplied. Gurnee, Mundelein and Libertyville already have a water shortage.

Fishing Is Better Than Last Year Reports Say

Whether it was the poor season last year that caused so many fish to be left over for this year, or some other reason, fishing is considered better than usual in this area this year.

The warm weather 10 days ago and the return of more warm weather this week following a cool spell is giving the public the fishing fever and the lakes and channels are dotted with fishing boats.

Most of the fish are pan fish, although some nice cat fish are being taken from the channels.

The warm weather has brought a few people to their summer cottages on cleaning tasks, but most of the vacationers will not arrive until after the close of schools.

Many lake properties have been converted to year-round homes.

Equality of Sacrifice

The general manager of an association of retail stores recently said, "We realize that in a period of emergency certain sacrifices are necessary. At the same time, we do not believe that it is the intent of Congress that any particular element of the economy should bear an unreasonable or disproportionate share of the burden in the attempted control of inflation. We believe by the fact that recent orders from the Office of Price Stabilization have forced retailers to absorb certain increases in the cost of goods—while other interested elements in the economy are permitted to pass them on. Some modifications in these orders have been made, after vigorous protest by representatives of retailing. But even in the modified regulations, such unavoidable costs as commissions paid, interest, bad debts and other expenses are not considered.

It may be that this injustice is simply an administrative error. It will certainly be indefensible if it turns out to be planned OPS policy. At best, the retailers' margin of profit is very small—after paying his bills, he usually has only a few cents left out of each dollar his customers pass across his counters. He too is faced with the common problem rising costs and a depreciated currency. He has, save in rare instances, no control over the prices charged at the wholesale level.

It is the plain duty of OPS—and of all other bodies which are involved in the price-control picture—to bend over backward to see that policies and orders treat everyone alike. This country has no place for "whipping boys", whether it be the retailers or anyone else.

A Real Luxury

Someone once said that smoking in bed is a luxury which should be pursued only by people who can afford to build new homes every so often.

It could be added that it is also a good practice for those who are eager to see what the next world is like as soon as possible. It has been the cause not only of thousands of home fires, but of disasters in hotels which have resulted in a ghastly toll of death and injury.

Moreover, this source of fire is typical of the fact that the great majority of fires are completely unnecessary. Certainly, even the chain-smoker can put out his final cigarette before he turns in for the night. And even the most indolent householder can make his home safe from fire in many other ways without overstraining his muscles. It doesn't take much effort to see that flammable junk is properly disposed of, rather than being stored in basements and closets where it is a constant invitation of fire. It's no great task to periodically check up on exposed electric cords and replace those which are frayed. And it's easy to call the repair shop and have someone who knows his business make a routine inspection of furnaces and other heating appliances before they are subjected to the heavy cold-weather load.

If these things alone are done, the risk of fire in most homes will be tremendously reduced. And the other major causes of fire are equally simple to detect and correct. No one can do it for you. It's your job—just as it's your life and your property that's at stake.

Is Socialized Power Cheap?

One of the best and simplest refutations of the argument that government-produced electric power is honestly "cheap", recently appeared in the Charleston, South Carolina, News and Courier. That paper said: "There are three, and only three, reasons why socialistic, public power can undersell free enterprise power. These are:

"1. Public power pays no taxes. One out of every five dollars that private power collects must be paid to the government in taxes.

"2. Public power is subsidized by the government. That is to say that taxpayers put up the money to build public power projects and pay the deficits.

"3. Public power pays no profits. If this is laudable—and the backers of public power seem to think it is—then free enterprise should certainly be banned completely. The profits which free enterprise power pays to its stockholders are regulated by state public service commissions, and the profits are taxed by the government."

Through the device of tax freedom and tax subsidy, the government could sell anything "cheaper" than private enterprise can sell it—food, clothes, and newspapers, for example! And there would be just as much justification for the government to socialize the food, clothing and newspaper business as there is for socializing power. The truth is that the utility industry, as a whole, sells domestic power at rates which are 26 per cent below the 1939 level. That really is cheap power—and the taxpayers aren't subsidizing it.

Grass Waterway Exhibit Planned Friday, May 11

To assist Lake County farmers in planning and constructing grass waterways, Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas has planned a method demonstration to be held at the Raymond Flood farm on Friday, May 11. The demonstration will start at 10 a. m. and will last until about 3:30 p. m.

This farm is located on route 63 about 1/2 mile south of route 120. Mr. Muirhead, agricultural engineer of the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture will assist with the demonstration. The various steps necessary in building a good waterway will be demonstrated. A grass waterway is one of the best means of carrying surface water off a field without the hazard of gully formation.

All interested parties are invited by Nicholas to attend this method demonstration.

Engineer to Estimate Cost of Sewer to Land East of Soo Line Track

David Miller, Great Lakes engineer, has been employed to make a cost estimate of a sewer line from North st. at Dwight or Drom st., east of the Soo tracks, south and then west to Main st., through the Charles Richards passage way.

Miller said because there is but a 6-inch line on Main street from the village limit to the Richards property, an eight-inch main could not be connected. The land east of the track provides a good fall.

He said the village property east of the tracks has enough fall for a sewer connecting with the main at Ida st. and a factory could be established there.

The village is merely getting estimates and the cost must be born by property owners if there is a desire to put in the sewer.

A dilemma confronts the village. The dairies have a sewage that is obnoxious during the summer, but the village doesn't want it emptied into its system because of the difficulty the disposal system has with it.

College Students Getting Jitters, Educators Report

CHICAGO—America college students have war jitters, university officials throughout the nation report.

As a result many men students have adopted a "what's the use" attitude and dropped out of school.

The survey of more than 55 colleges and universities showed that many students had been called into reserve units and that large numbers of students planned to enlist after mid-term examinations rather than wait to be drafted in June, so they might have their pick of the services. Some students just did not show up after Christmas.

A University of Texas official said about 400 students had dropped out of school to enlist in recent months.

Students at Princeton said dormitory janitors had been asked to make a check to see just who had come back from the Christmas holidays. University officials there predicted their enrollment would drop of 2,000 next fall, a decline of one-third.

Victims of Worry

A Duquesne University official said a check showed that five per cent of the students had adopted a "don't-give-a-damn attitude" and were cutting classes and ignoring their studies. He said another 20 per cent were the victims of worry and general tension.

Other universities reported many students were ignoring their classes and that grades had dropped in many cases.

J. D. Williams, chancellor of the University of Mississippi, reported: "The uncertainty of the mobilization program has contributed to restlessness, impatience, confusion, frustration and in some instances despair on the part of many students. Some seem relieved when they actually were called to active duty."

At Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Brown and Princeton, a "general unrest" was reported. A Dartmouth spokesman said the school already had lost a "sizeable percentage" of students through enlistments.

At the University of Florida, J. Hillis Miller, the president, scheduled a meeting of all 8,000 male students in an effort to combat the despondent attitude caused by the war threat and draft. Professors said grades in all except reserve officer training courses had plummeted and the student newspaper estimated about 50 men a week were quitting school to enlist.

Scholastic Averages Drop

"We need a clearer outlook for students," said Willis Tate, vice president of Southern Methodist University. "Many of the weaker students—those in the lower half of their class—definitely are studying less. After all, they've lost their incentive because of the present draft laws."

He said there was "much hysteria and misinformation" on the campus and indecision on the part of men "faced by the threat of changes in the draft law."

Other schools reported the scholastic average had dropped slightly, partially because of the "terrible turmoil at present" and "bitterness among students."

Frustrated Sifter Is Made Happy by Bad Golf Players

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Zev's Peerless Beau, son of a field trial champion, was a frustrated English setter. His owner was too busy to take him to the field more than once or twice a year.

Then one day Harry Wheeler, Zev's owner, took him out to the golf course for a run. Someone hit a golf ball and Zev wanted to retrieve it. Wheeler ordered the disappointed Zev to heel.

Then when a ball dropped into the rough and an unhappy golfer beat the bushes in a vain attempt to find it, Wheeler gave Zev the "go ahead."

Zev almost held a point on the missing ball and then raced into the brush after it. A few moments later he retrieved. Before the afternoon was over, Zev had found six lost balls.

Zev had a new occupation now—retriever of lost golf balls. His owner says he's no longer a frustrated dog.

Navy Gives In to Pupils; Will Not Call Up Teacher

CHICAGO, Ill. — The navy surrendered recently to a 12 year old girl.

She is Janet Smith, who wrote Rear Adm. J. Cary Jones, commandant of the 9th naval district.

Janet, supported by 165 schoolmates, asked deferment of their favorite teacher, Perry J. Rockwell, 26, World War II radioman and a naval reservist, who had been called up as of February 1. The children said they needed Rockwell more than the navy did and asked that his service call be put off until June 25, the end of school.

Admiral Jones, after conferring with other navy officials, agreed with Janet and granted the deferment.

Sermon on Mount Named in Survey As Best 'Speech'

NEW YORK—Of all the speeches ever made, which two would you like to have heard in person?

When a Northwestern University professor asked 318 persons this question, 88 per cent named either Christ's "Sermon on the Mount" or Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address."

One man wanted to hear Joe Stalin's "Farewell Address."

Dr. Irving J. Lee, professor of public speaking at Northwestern, revealed the finding of a three-year "odd moments" survey in the Chicago area to discover how people feel about speakers and speeches.

Another question Professor Lee asked was, "Are there any speakers alive today you would be willing to go to some trouble to hear?"

Seventy-six per cent of those queried said they would go out of their way to hear one or more of the following: Winston Churchill, Albert Einstein, General Eisenhower, Eleanor Roosevelt and Walter Winchell.

Least Interesting Named

The survey subjects said the most interesting speakers they had heard were actors and actresses, clergymen and college professors, in that order. Described as "least interesting" were well-known writers, all scientists and most business men.

The Northwestern professor reported that the 318 people he interviewed consisted of three general types in about equal proportions: (1) laboring people, (2) business executives and club women, and (3) students and white collar workers. He talked to them on the street, on trains and street cars, in theater lobbies and in stores.

Fifty per cent said they go to hear speeches because they have to, 25 per cent because they feel they should and 25 per cent because they want to. Another breakdown of the answers showed that 30 per cent go to speeches because they are "dragged" by friends or relatives.

Forty per cent of those who went to a college or university expressed little interest in speeches, pointing out they had had their share of lecture-going. A sample comment was: "After all, how much can a man take?"

Dislike Formal Talks

In summarizing what the 318 subjects think about speakers and speeches, Professor Lee made three comments:

(1) People have had their fill of the dull, lifeless, learned, official-sounding formalism which marks so many public statestmen. Speakers ought to stand up and speak in their own words, no matter how halting or unpolished.

(2) Audiences want less special pleading and campaigning for vested interests, and more occasions in which they are effortlessly enlightened. They like to hear speakers who try to help them think through the problems of our time.

(3) They are unhappy about the amount of personalized invective in public debate today. They want less of the headline-reaching that goes with angry attacks on persons. They think that men of good-will, anxious about the welfare of this country, ought to be able to differ in better spirit, that men in high places ought to be able to disagree without so much spitting and distemper.

Dress Institute Names Ten Best Dressed Women in '50

NEW YORK — The New York Dress Institute recently announced its list of the world's 10 best dressed women as selected by a poll of fashion designers, editors and other prominent persons.

The Duchess of Windsor topped the list and three newcomers, Faye Emerson, Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer, former model and wife of the American ambassador to Mexico, and actress Gloria Swanson, were added to it.

Others making the list were Mrs. William Paley, wife of a CBS radio executive; Mrs. Byron Foy, wife of the Chrysler executive; Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr.; Mrs. Louis Arpels, of the French jewelry family; Mrs. Andre Embiricos, wife of a Greek shipping magnate, and Mrs. Leland Hayward, wife of the Broadway producer.

Dropped out of the first 10 were the Duchess of Kent, Mary Martin, Mrs. Kingman Douglass, and Mrs. Harrison Williams.

Britain Breeding Over Injustice Gets Vengeance

SHEFFIELD, Eng.—Walter Marshall insisted last June that he was not guilty of smashing a grocer's plate glass window. He was fined anyway and he brooded about it.

Recently the 44-year-old machinist was back in the same court on the same charge. He told the judge:

"Ever since last June that window has been the same to me as a red flag to a bull. Last night I picked up a stone and flung it through the glass deliberately. Last time I did not do it. This time I did."

The judge fined him another 10 pounds.

SHORT STORY Cause For Murder

By Richard H. Wilkinson

ANDREW RANDALL'S death was, obviously, suicide. Capt. Van Ness of the homicide squad went down to investigate, though he admitted the investigation was merely in the line of routine duty. I went with him.

"You can't make a murder out of this one," I grumbled. "Come on home. We're wasting each other's time."

"Keep your shirt on, scribe. Let's look around the joint. I've always wanted to see what a millionaire's home looked like."

"You're still wasting time. Randall was just $999,999 short of being a millionaire."

This was true. Once a prominent member of the upper brackets, Andrew Randall's fortune had depleted steadily for the past dozen years. Even the house was mortgaged.

"Who's going to inherit this bunch of debts?" I asked Van.

"As far as I can figure there's only one living relative. A youngster named Barry Roister. A nephew by marriage. He lives in Michigan."

"Ah!" I cried brightly. "A murder prospect! Now what could the motive be?"

Van grinned again. The drawing room of the old house contained three fairly good oil paintings. There were some silver and a few antique pieces and a car in the garage. Otherwise, young Mr. Barry Roister of Michigan was going to find it hardly worth his while to make the trip to New York to collect his inheritance.

Outside, Van sighed deeply. "What a pity! There was a chance for a swell murder case and it turns out to be nothing but an ordinary suicide."

"Lord, it's getting so a man can't honestly kill himself these days without some inquisitive copper trying to dramatize it."

I was sent up to Provincetown and then down to Miami to cover the air races. So it was more than two weeks before I returned to New York. The day after my arrival I dropped in on Van.

He looked brighter and satisfied. "About the Randall murder," he said. "We've got the killer!"

I stared blankly. Then suddenly I remembered. "That wasn't a murder. It was a suicide. What do you mean you've got the killer?"

"Barry Roister from Michigan. Remember? The nephew by marriage. He did it."

"Now look, Van," I said. "Stop talking in bunches. Why would Barry Roister want to kill penniless old Andy Randall?"

"Because of the paintings. You remember those three paintings we saw in the drawing room?"

"I remember that they weren't anything to kill an old man over."

"Ha!" said Van. "You newspaper men! Never get behind the news. Too superficial. I suppose you never heard of Caleb Trask?"

"No, I never heard of Caleb Trask."

"Well, he's an artist. Pretty good too. He painted those oils. They sold for about $50 each. Then Caleb died. So what always happens when a fairly good artist dies? The price of his paintings hits the sky. So Caleb Trask lived in Michigan and

I stared blankly. "That wasn't a murder. It was a suicide. What do you mean you've got the killer?"

Roister, being an art connoisseur and knowing that his distant uncle owned the paintings, began to think: "Ah!"

"Ah! is right. To Roister it looked like a set-up. Uncle Andy had every reason to commit suicide and who would ever suspect a distant nephew living in Michigan who would only inherit a bunch of debts?"

"So Roister made a quick and murderous trip to Uncle Andy's and then returned to Michigan. And when he was advised he had inherited a lot of debts he came back and gave his uncle a decent burial and took the paintings and left everything else for the debts. And a week and a half later I read in the papers where the Trask oils had sold for $50,000 each." Van sighed and grinned. "What a pity you newspaper men don't try to get behind the news."

"What a pity," I snapped, "that you had to read in the newspapers about the paintings being sold."

Grammy, 81, Drives Groton School Bus Fifty-Three Years

GROTON, Mass. — In 1898, Mrs. Lillian K. Clapp, contracted to drive pupils for the Groton town school. Now 81, white haired but robust, she is still driving after 53 years.

She used a horse and carriage back in 1898, with a sled in the winter. She had six passengers. The pay was $6 a week. (She gets $6 a day now.)

Some of the first group today are grandparents.

Hardly had Mrs. Clapp begun her venture as a "common carrier" than the horseless carriage appeared. She recalls how she herself sometimes joined in joshing a hapless motorist swathed in a duster as he reclined beneath his car.

She admits, too, that she was one of the last of the holdouts. Not until 1933 did she yield and buy a bus. She still has it.

Today a little swarm of grade schoolers rush to open bus door, shrilly shouting:

"Hello, Grammy! Hello, Grammy! Let's go."

And as her young passengers come aboard her lips count soundlessly. A lip reader would say she stopped at 28, before asking "Where's Jimmy?" The children chorus, "He's hiding under his seat."

"Sit up straight," admonishes Grammy, "and remember, no monkeyshines, or you'll have to walk home."

Grammy, who found time to rear two children herself, and has six grandchildren, is about through with bus driving. The school population is increasing. A larger bus is in order.

Grammy says, "At my age I don't think I'll buy a new one. I've persuaded the school superintendent to accept my resignation. You see, I'm a seamstress, too, and I have more work than I can handle. I'm self-supporting, and I plan to remain so."

Japanese Bath Attractions Now Include Baby Sitters

TOKYO, Japan — Tokyo has 1,400 public bathhouse operators and recently they have been going all-out for customers.

Some of the enticements include: Milk baths at 10 yen (about 3 cents), free soap, mineral water, free tea and baby sitters for the young mother trade.

Now a $300,000 three story turkish bath is under construction. It will offer all these, plus: A "perfume bath," a cabaret, a hotel, and hand picked beauties in bathing suits to give free massages.

New Fire Fighting Method Is Reported By Egyptian

CAIRO, Egypt—A new method of fighting fire was announced recently by Egypt's chief fire fighter, Col. Mohamed Mahfouz.

The colonel reports that through a new device ordinary air is sucked through a series of cleaners, then blown out onto a fire through a special nozzle after the oxygen content is reduced.

"You blow out a candle by moving air toward it," he said. "Well, in this you just blow a little harder to extinguish a bigger flame."

Mahfouz said the process could replace present methods of fire extinguishing, since it can be used for any type of flame and does not harm materials, as do water and many chemicals.

While reasonable precautions must be taken that the air jet does not fan the flame, there can be no bad chemical reaction when the air comes in contact with a flame.

One of the biggest and best arguments is the price and availability of the new device's chief component—ordinary, everyday breathing air.

Telephone Books Are Used To Repulse Bandit Attacks

NEW YORK — The magazine Tracks of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad reports old telephone books are being used to make trains bulletproof in Central America.

The prevalence of bandits and political dissidents makes armored trains desirable, and one line installed double thick steel plates on their cars.

These were unsuccessful, because the bandits fired high powered rifles with bullets that penetrated the steel. Then it was suggested that old telephone books be packed in the air space in the walls. This worked so well that the line placed an order for 4,000 pounds of old New York telephone books.

Brass Officers Army Recruits Be Called Privates Again

WASHINGTON—The army again will call the rookie a private, instead of a recruit, for morale and administrative reasons.

Since August 1, 1948, soldiers in the first four months of basic training had been called recruits. But under the present accelerated training program, the army reported, many soldiers complete basic work in less than four months and go into specialist training still with the title of recruit. The army said it found this had a bad effect on morale.

Red Pine Seedlings for Forest Planted North of Hickory Corner Friday

"Tree-planting machines are quickening tree-planting programs in Lake County and also other sections of the state," W. F. Buckley (associate) extension forester from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture Urbana, pointed out at a demonstration on the G. A. Lange farm near Antioch on April 27.

At the same time he indicated that nursery production requires expansion to keep pace with demand and adequately cope with the state's reforestation problem.

The meeting on the Lange farm featured a recently developed tree-planting machine supplied by the agricultural department of the Illinois Central Railroad. During the day 4,000 white and red pine seedlings were planted with it in about 6 hours.

Buckley had charge of the machine and showed how it is used in planting the trees. The planting on the Lange farm is intended to establish a pine plantation for wood crops which will serve as demonstration to Lake county people in the years ahead. In summing up the value of mechanical planters to the reforestation problem, Buckley said that planting costs are lowered, and with more rapid planting possible, operations can be delayed until soil conditions are favorable. He believes the machine has a place in the county, probably on cooperative basis, as in the soil conservation district program, or on a custom basis. The areas in need of planting on many farms do not justify investment in a machine, he warned.

The demonstration and meeting on the Lange farm was developed by Ray T. Nicholas, Lake county farm adviser, through the joint efforts of P. R. Farlow, gen. agricultural agent of the Illinois Central;

E. E. Nuuttila, state forester of the Department of Conservation and Buckley.

Ingrid Mary Westling, 73, Lake Marie, died Saturday, April 28 at 11:05 p. m. at St. Therese hospital following a lingering illness. She was born October 17, 1877 in Karlskrona, Sweden, coming to America at the age of sixteen years settling in Chicago making her home there until coming to Antioch twenty years ago.

Mrs. Westling was a member of

It's easy to run up a big auto repair bill these days. And it's good sense to protect yourself against accident costs with Hartford Collision Insurance. Let us explain this coverage to you and quote its cost for your car.

120 Children Confirmed By Bishop O'Brien at St. Peter's on Sunday

Forty-four children and four adults received their First Holy Communion at St. Peter's Church, Antioch, at the 8 o'clock mass Sunday. Over five hundred local parishioners attended this service.

In the afternoon Bishop William O'Brien, Auxiliary Bishop of the diocese of Chicago gave the Sacrament of Confirmation to one hundred and twenty children and adults. At least six hundred were in attendance at this service.

The Bishop in his talk made special comment about the rapid growth of this community. The Sisters of Charity, who teach in the school, had the children so well trained that the order and beauty of the ceremonies was very unusual. It was a day long to be remembered because at no other time in the history of the parish were the classes so large.

After the confirmation the ladies of the parish served a delicious dinner to the bishop and more than twenty priests who took part in the ceremony. A large group of members of the parish Holy Name Society acted as a guard of honor to His Excellency, Bishop O'Brien. The Bishop paid his respects to the members in the military service who attended and emphasized the fact that the Catholic who is faithful to the practice of his religion must of necessity, in consequence of the teaching of his religion, be a patriotic citizen of his country.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the indulgence of evil motives and aims brings its own punishment, and that reform can come only as a deep and sincere love for God, good, predominates, will be explained in next Sunday's services in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The topic of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, May 6, is "EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT."

The Golden Text is from Ezekiel (18:30): "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include Mark (2:16,17).

"And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners? When Jesus heard it, he said unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The design of Love is to reform the sinner. . . All nature teaches God's love to man, but man cannot love God supremely and set his whole affections on spiritual things, while loving the material or trusting in it more than in the spiritual. We must forsake the foundation of material systems, however time-honored, if we would gain the Christ as our only Saviour" (pp. 35, 326).

Antioch V.F.W. Baseball Team Will Open Season Sunday Against Burlington

Next Sunday will herald the opening of the second season of the Southeastern Baseball League. Once again the Antioch VFW will be the lone Illinois entrant. The league has shrunk somewhat in that three teams have dropped out but another has been added so that the loop will operate as a six team circuit composed of Antioch, Burlington, Wilmet, Silver Lake, Model Tavern and Wavro's Red Sox. Last years champs, the Racine Thompsons, are not competing this year so that a new champion will be crowned when September rolls around. On the basis of last year's records Wilmet rules a slight favorite since they finished in second place last season. However, Burlington, Antioch, Silver Lake, and Model Tavern were only a game or two behind so that prospects are for a very well balanced race. The strength of the new Kenosha entry, Wavro's Red Sox, is unknown but is in all probability on a par with the rest of the league and perhaps even better.

The VFW will open at home this year and their foe will be the Burlington Legion. Last year the same two teams opened against one another and the result was an upset win for Antioch. This year again led by Jack Crandall, they will endeavor to duplicate that feat. The players personnel for Antioch will include many of the same faces. The team will be somewhat handicapped, however, by the loss of some of last year's regulars, to the Armed Forces and by the fact that none of the high school contingent can compete until the close of the school season. Nevertheless, the team has been working hard for the last three weeks in preparation for Sunday's opener although they have not had much cooperation from the weatherman. As a result the opening lineup will probably not be decided until game-time, but will probably include Ray Wells, Glenn Fox, Ed Palenski, Herb Reckers, Dick and Ray Scott, Herb Ellis and Jack Crandall.

Once again for the convenience of the fans some of the high school football bleachers have been moved to the baseball diamond. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand at 2:00 CDT to root the locals off to a successful start.

For a delightful change in salad dressing flavors, try this idea: blend one tablespoon of flour with one-fourth cup of lemon juice until lump-free. Then stir into this one-half cup of maple syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture is thick like honey. Cool, and into the mixture fold one cup of whipped cream. Serve with any tart fruit salad mixture.

Use for Spiced Vinegar
Save the spiced sweet vinegar which is left in bottles of pickles and spiced fruits. Use it in making gelatin salads; use it in thin mayonnaise; pour it over baked ham just before browning; use it in cocktail sauces for sea food; use it in place of cider when making mince pies. It is also good when used as a hot syrup and poured over beets.

New Life Begins For Child Found On Battlefield

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — The life of Patsy Li, a 15-year-old Chinese girl, has been filled with adventure more sensational than the usual fiction story.

It was eight years ago that two American marines found a tiny, helpless Chinese child wandering aimlessly about a thundering battlefield in Guadalcanal.

Her face was flushed with fever. There was an ugly gash on her head and bayonet wounds on her arms and legs.

On that day in 1943, no one dared to hope that the little girl would live. Natives had slipped her from behind Japanese lines to a spot where the marines would find her.

Sheltered by Lt. Cdr. Frederick P. Gehring, a navy chaplain, she cried when she first saw his uniform. When the Japanese bombed the encampment, he hid her in foxholes. She clung to life and recovered.

Chaplain Names Child

It was in a foxhole that Father Gehring found a name for her: Patsy Li. The selection of that name was another of the sensational incidents in her life. It happened that he gave her precisely the name that had been hers from birth.

Thus, relatives who read their newspapers found Patsy and took her, after the war, back under their wing.

Patsy's mother, Mrs. Ruth Li, lived in Singapore when the Japanese struck in 1941. In February, 1942, with the enemy close at hand, Mrs. Li and her two young daughters left with other refugees on the SS Kuala, bound for Australia.

The loaded steamship fell under Japanese air attack off the Netherlands East Indies and was sunk. Mrs. Li held her children tightly and leaped from the vessel before it went down.

She placed Patsy, then 6, on a bit of wreckage. She lost her grip on two-year-old Lottie Li and the child drowned. When she was finally dragged aboard a life raft, Patsy was nowhere to be found.

Travels 3,000 Miles

No one knows how Patsy Li reached Guadalcanal. She herself was too young to remember. But it is 3,000 miles from the island to the spot where the SS Kuala was sunk.

After she was found, bleeding and ragged, by the marines, and recovered from her wounds and fever, Patsy became a virtual mascot for the corps.

When the war was over, Mrs. Li made her way to Patsy, then on the island of Efate, from Singapore. That was in 1946. The two went back to Singapore to live.

Now, nine years later, Patsy Li has arrived in the United States to get a high school education. The arrangements were made by Father Gehring who is now director of the Cincinnati mission in China, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Immigrant Shows Gratitude By Leaving Lodge $10,000

GREEN BAY, Wis. — The Odd Fellows lodge of Green Bay received $10,824 recently and therein is one of the strangest stories of many a day.

Sixty years ago while the lodge hall was abuilding, a penniless immigrant youth asked the member in charge for a job.

When the building was finished, the workman—one Nels Johnson—asked the boss if there was anything he could do to show his appreciation.

And the boss replied, jokingly, "If you ever get any money, you might leave some to the IOOF."

A half century later members of the lodge were advised by a Rochelle (Ill.) attorney that one Nels Johnson had left them a bequest.

The name meant nothing. Some optimistic souls thought the bequest might be $100.

When the check arrived it was for $10,824. That was the dividend paid by the Danish immigrant, factory hand, industrialist and finally financier. Johnson left an estate in excess of $200,000.

Kontoukian Is Stuck With 30,000 Metal Bound Balls

LITTLE FERRY, N. J.—A Little Ferry aeronautical instrument firm has come to the rescue of Lawrence Calhoun of Cold Spring, Ky., who has 30,000 wooden balls with metal clamps around them that he had purchased from the war assets administration.

The firm said they could use some of the balls, about 500, as joints for airplane airdials. A company spokesman said he didn't know what he could do with 30,000.

He explained that the balls could be used as universal joints through which the aerial runs on an airplane.

Calhoun said he purchased the balls believing he could use them, but discovered later that he could not. He still has 29,500 to sell.

Only Two Watches Made In America Prof. Cole Told Antioch Men's Club

There are only two American made watches any more, the Hamilton and the Elgin, all other are made in Switzerland, or assembled in this country, Prof. Richard H. Cole, Northwestern university told the Antioch Men's club at its dinner meeting Monday evening.

Professor Cole traced the history of watches from 1700 until the present time, illustrating his talk with stereopticon slides.

When the Howard family died, that watch company like the Illinois Watch Co., went out of existence, he said.

The tendency at this time is to make cheap watches, and the American manufacturers who manufactured good watches were forced out of business. With radio announcing the time every few minutes and a clock on many buildings people do not need watches so badly now, he commented.

The number of jewels does not necessarily determine the quality or value of the watch, Professor Cole said. There are only about seven moving parts and beyond that a jewel may be superfluous, yet the average man thinks a watch to be good must have 21 jewels.

The speaker showed pictures of many types of watches, including some that strike the hour.

The next meeting of the club will be on June 4 when Mr. Steffen, director of training in the industrial relations department of Swift and Co., Chicago, will be the speaker. His subject will be "This Is Your Problem." During July, August and September there will be no meetings.

Dogs Damage Gardens

Complaints have been made of damage done by dogs running at large, digging up gardens and doing damage to lawns and flower beds. Dog owners are asked to tie them up or keep them under control at least until the gardens and flowers are well rooted.

Tea Balls

A tea ball may be used as a convenient container in which to place whole spices when making spiced syrups or some types of pickles where a spice flavor rather than the whole spice itself is desired. Leave the tea ball containing the spices in the boiling mixture the desired length of time and then remove.

Heart

Operations Successful

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. Robert P. Glover, one of the surgeons who perfected the technique of operating on the mitral valve of the heart, reports 80 percent of the patients who have undergone the operations are living fairly normal lives.

The first operation to correct mitral stenosis, a closing of the valve—was performed two years ago.

"Since that time there have been 50 cases," Dr. Glover said. "Of these, eight died within the first month and a ninth died later of an infection not connected with the heart condition."

"Twenty of the remaining 41 are in excellent condition and have lost all the symptoms they had before the operation. It is fair to say that they are living normal lives."

"The other 21 have retained some effects of the disease because the disease had reached an advanced stage. However, many of them have returned to work and all are living fairly normal lives."

Making Milk Sour

If a recipe calls for sour milk and only sweet milk is available, add two tablespoons of vinegar to one cup of sweet milk and allow to stand a few minutes. Sour milk will result.

Termite Control

A single treatment of DDT to the soil around wooden structures gives complete protection against termite attack for at least five years, according to Michigan State college agricultural economists.

Cellophane Tape Mending

In case you don't pack a needle and thread when you travel, it is just as easy to rely on cellophane tape to fix a ripped hem, hold together a torn shoulder strap, stop a run in your nylons or patch a split raincoat.

Milk Weight

Fresh fluid milk is being reduced to one-third its original weight in Wilmington, Delaware. When this milk is mixed with two parts of cold water, normal milk is the result. The product is the result of seven years research.

Marbles for College

John Danby, who founded the Disney chair of archaeology at Cambridge in 1851, also bequeathed his collection of marbles to the university.

Legion Auxiliary Opposes Bill to Create Department Of Health Before Congress

Concern is being expressed by American Legion Auxiliary rehabilitation workers over the fate of the present program of hospital and medical care for war veterans should a bill to create a Department of Health, now before Congress, become a law, according to Mrs. Walter Hills, Rehabilitation chairman of Antioch Unit of the Auxiliary.

The bill, now being considered by committees in both houses of Congress, would establish a department of cabinet rank under which would be the service of the United States Public Health Service, the Veterans Administration Department of Medicine and Surgery and certain medical and hospital services of the Department of Defense. Specific provisions is made for hospitalization of veterans with service-connected disabilities, but no provision whatever seems to be made for veterans whose disabilities are not service-connected.

"The American Legion and Auxiliary have worked for many years to obtain adequate hospital facilities and establish a high standard of medical care for disabled veterans," Mrs. Hills said. "Taking the care of the veteran away from the Veterans Administration and merging it with other health functions of the Federal Government in a huge governmental department appears to us to be a move not in the best interests of the veteran. With the Korean War adding thousands of new names to the rolls of the nation's disabled defenders, it seems a poor time to disrupt the program of caring for the war disabled which has been developed through long years of experience."

"The Legion and Auxiliary believe that all veterans' affairs should continue to be handled by the Veterans Administration, not parceled out among a number of different government agencies. The Veterans Administration was created to end the confusion which resulted when a number of different agencies were trying to handle veterans' affairs, and we do not want to return to that situation."

It's the only new-type engine in any "new car"!

Chrysler FirePower

Finest engine ever put in an automobile

180 HORSEPOWER

The new Chrysler Hemispherical Combustion Chamber, heart of the finest car engine built today. In this dome-topped area, you see the only ideal combustion chamber... the only way to develop full combustion, full compression, full work and value from every drop of fuel!

With so many engines claiming newness... how can we call FirePower the only new type engine today? The answer's very simple, and one you ought to know before you invest in a car. The fact is that engine "improvements" happen every year... but a basically new motor car engine is a very rare thing. And FirePower is the most basic new development since Chrysler introduced high-compression in 1924!

To get to the heart of the matter, just go to the heart of the engine... the combustion chamber where the spark fires gas into power. Here Chrysler brings you something no car has had till now... a Hemispherical combustion chamber... the only perfect and ideal combustion chamber in any passenger car. Here the same amount of gasoline delivers you far more energy than it could in any other car. What this means to the man at FirePower's wheel is impossible to tell you till you take that wheel yourself. FirePower's 180 horsepower can outperform any other engine on the road, even on regular grade gas.

Remember, too, that Chrysler now offers the wondrous road-ease of new Oriflow shock absorbers with twice the shock-absorbing power of any others... and the exclusive safety and delight of Hydramatic power steering* which takes four-fifths of the work out of steering! You can learn for yourself how Chrysler has changed your motoring life by seeing your Chrysler dealer now!
